

Every year, more than 40,000 women die from breast cancer in the U.S.

You have the power to save lives!

Click daily to help.

Every two minutes a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer. Although mammograms are among the best methods of early detection, 13 million U.S. women 40 years of age or older have never had one.

With a simple daily click on the pink button at www.TheBreastCancerSite.com, you can help fund a free mammogram for a woman in need. It costs you nothing! Site sponsors fund the mammograms your clicks provide.

100% of sponsor funding is given to the nonprofit National Breast Cancer Foundation. Founded by a 25-year breast cancer survivor, NBCF seeks to increase awareness through education and provide mammograms to homeless, working-poor, and un-insured women who would not otherwise have access to this lifesaving screening.
